Iraq

Submission to the United Nations Universal Periodic Review

Thirty-Fourth Session of the UPR Working Group of the Human Rights Council

4–15 November 2019

Created in 2005, the Global Justice Center is a United States based human rights organization with consultative status to the United Nations that works to achieve sustainable justice, peace and security by building a global rule of law based on gender equality and universally enforced international human rights laws.

Contact Information

Akila Radhakrishnan
President
11 Hanover Square, 6th Floor
New York, NY 10005
P 212.725.6530 x 203
F 212.725.6536
www.globaljusticecenter.net
akila@globaljusticecenter.net